

Volunteers Needed For Emu Population Counts

Julia Ryeland, PhD Candidate
julia.ryeland@westernsydney.edu.au

Project Overview

While the emu remains common in many areas, along the East coast of Australia their distribution has severely retracted. Only a few small populations along the east coast of NSW remain, and to assess the likelihood these populations will persist into the future, we need help to estimate population size within these four populations

What's required?

- What: Volunteers to drive two 3-5km transects each, four times in 2017 (March, June, September, December). This should take about half a day, with sightings being recorded through a mobile application
- Where: We need volunteers located in the Eurobodalla area, Tidbinbilla (Canberra) area and Yuragir (Grafton) area.

Interested?

If you are able to assist with this project and would like to be involved, please contact Julia Ryeland for more information;

email: julia.ryeland@westernsydney.edu.au

More information about the project?

Please visit Julia's website: juliaryeland.weebly.com/